

WILTON LIBRARY

Connected & Thriving

Annual Report 2020-2021

A message from the Executive Director

Dear Friends,

As I write my last annual report message as Executive Director of Wilton Library, I am reminded of one of my favorite track and field sporting events – the relay race. For me, the relay race is one of the most beautiful illustrations of teamwork and coordinated efforts.

A critically important element of this race is the passing of the baton. This action, which occurs in just a few seconds, demonstrates trust and readiness to accept what is put in the palm of one's hand. When a runner receives the baton, he or she often accepts it without seeing it. Yet, it is grasped by the runner with the knowledge that it is necessary to build on all the hard work and efforts that enabled the transfer of that baton. The receiving runner must then sprint as fast as possible to pass that baton smoothly to the next teammate. The more smoothly the baton is passed, the easier it is to maintain and build on the team's momentum.

In many ways, the past year has been a relay race. Over the last several months, new members of our team have had to accept the proverbial batons from colleagues who had retired, moved away to join family, or chose new career paths. And now, I too am completing my leg of the race and will soon hand off the administrative baton to the next Executive Director of Wilton Library, just as I happily received it from Kathy Leeds, the previous director.

As I conclude my tenure, I am particularly mindful of the generous support, camaraderie, trust, and warm friendships that I have been privileged to receive from you. So it is with much appreciation and fondness that I say thank you to our many loyal patrons, town officials and departments, friends, sponsors, community partners, volunteers, and especially the Boards of Trustees and my colleagues for your collaboration during the past year, and the years prior. Your unwavering commitment to our library – during times of celebration as well as times of challenge, such as the COVID pandemic and unforgettable storms – validates the importance of our institution as a traditional library, an essential cultural and intellectual center, and most of all, a special place in the heart of this community.

I hope you will enjoy reading about this year's programs, events, and accomplishments, all of which kept us connected and enabled Wilton Library to thrive during the past year.

Elaine Tai-Lauria

A message from the President

Dear Friends,

This year's Annual Report must begin with our thanks. Thank you to our patrons, young and not so young, who enjoy Wilton Library's resources and programs; to our Executive Director Elaine Tai-Lauria, for her expert management and enduring warmth during these difficult times; the teamwork of our library staff; and to the entire community, whose participation and financial support keeps our library vibrant and thriving. We thank you all.

The fiscal year 2020–2021 placed extraordinary demands on our staff. COVID-19 disrupted social interactions worldwide, requiring innovation in every facet of library services. Our staff has risen to the challenge of providing engaging and meaningful resources with creativity, and we could not have done it without them. Beyond just surviving, our library has evolved into an even more essential resource center for all who seek information, enrichment, connection, and inspiration.

Through careful financial management, the library's fiscal position is strong and stable. Our public-private partnership with the town of Wilton provides the largest source of funding, approximately 75% of our operating budget – indeed, your tax dollars at work. However, it is the generous support of our patrons, whose donations provide funds for all materials and programs, that make the library Wilton's vibrant center of inspiration, education, and connection. For this we are truly grateful.

We recently opened The Brubeck Collection archive, where Dave Brubeck's fantastic legacy of recorded, printed, and physical materials are available for research and inspiration. The library will welcome researchers from around the globe seeking knowledge of Dave's contributions to the world of jazz and beyond, and we hope to create and expand programs and activities that will make Wilton a major presence in the musical world.

The coming year also presents new challenges. As many of you know, Elaine has announced her retirement in early 2022. The Board of Trustees has established a search committee and engaged the services of Bradbury Miller, a nationwide search firm, for the formidable task of finding her replacement. This is a tall order indeed, and we will keep you informed of our progress and hope to welcome a new Executive Director early in the new year.

Maintaining the open and welcoming presence of Wilton Library in the face of a pandemic is truly challenging. I am humbled to serve on a Board of Trustees with many insightful members who will explore and implement new operations and programs to support and inspire our patrons. I believe that the future we now see dawning will be filled with all of the challenges that change brings. With your engagement, generosity, and support, Wilton Library will remain at the center of our town's civic life in new and compelling ways.

So we invite you to come in or Zoom in, meet your friends, welcome new residents and staff, and explore all that Wilton Library has to offer.

Rob Sanders

Wilton Library Connected...and Thriving

It is hard to imagine what our lives would be without connections.

Through connections, we inform.

Through connections, we enrich.

Through connections, we inspire.

For Wilton Library, it was a year full of meaningful connections. Still facing challenges due to the Coronavirus pandemic, we continued to work tirelessly to fulfill the intellectual and cultural needs of our community. During this time, one thing always remained constant – connections. We managed to stay closely connected to you, while striving to connect everyone in our community to each other and to the world beyond.

And so we came to realize... through connections, we thrived.

Not only did we succeed in maintaining all of these important connections – they energized us and we continued to grow and to flourish. We adapted and evolved to provide resources and services that our community needs. We successfully celebrated our momentous 125th Anniversary with a re-imagined Virtual Gala. And we were immensely proud to welcome The Brubeck Collection, one of the most prestigious jazz archives in the world, into our newly designed and constructed archival space.

Although Wilton Library had its start in the corner of a post office in 1895, we have grown immensely over the years. Nothing makes us more gratified than serving our community. We invite you to connect with us and stay connected. For our part, we will always work diligently to stay true to our purpose and mission: to inform, enrich, connect, and inspire our community.

Connecting to You

In the face of the ongoing Coronavirus pandemic, the Wilton Library staff pivoted successfully to fulfill the needs of the community and keep everyone connected. We offered a dynamic mix of virtual and in-person services and programming that brought new knowledge and experiences to patrons of all ages.

Our drive-thru window offered a safe and easy way for patrons to borrow and return materials, while our librarians provided personal one-on-one assistance and instruction via video chats, email and phone. We continued to boost our Digital Library resources, including audio and video entertainment, and celebrated our 100,000th eBook checkout winner. Our Children's Library maintained a steady stream of online story times and other learning activities to keep children and parents engaged. Older and younger generations connected through Zoom or YouTube to participate in virtual author talks, seminars on art, music, history, and literature, and other enrichment programs.

One highlight was our community-wide reading program, Wilton Reads 2021, which explored the timely topics of racism and race relations with the book Memorial Drive: A Daughter's Memoir by Natasha Trethewey and included a virtual visit from the Pulitzer Prize-winning author.

And when it was safe for the public to visit our building again, we were happy to greet everyone with face-to-face service, in-person seminars and workshops, a big spring book sale, and lots of smiles to welcome new Wilton residents at our Ice Cream Social.

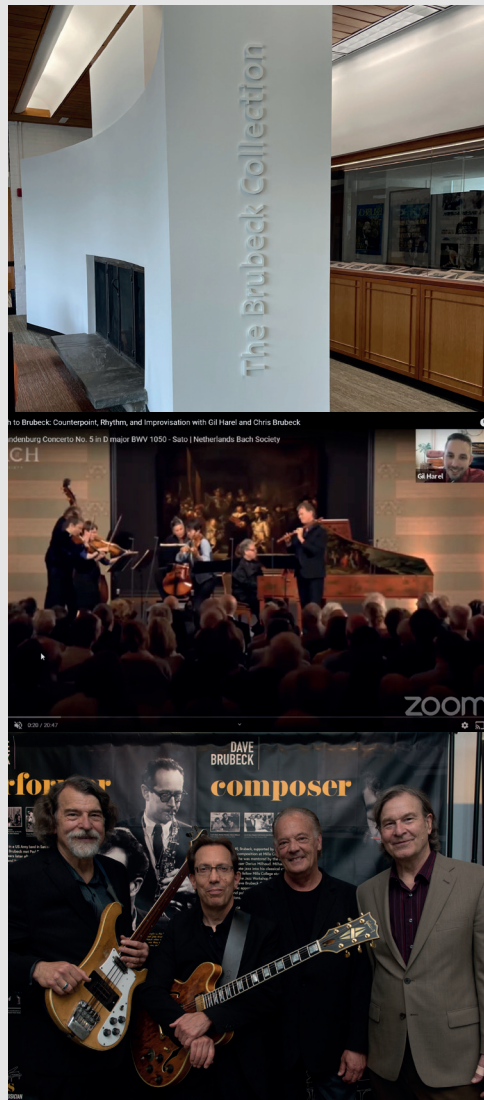

Connecting Through Art and Music

Wilton Library continued its strong tradition of music and arts programming, connecting our community with renowned local and international musicians and artists. We hosted art exhibits and teamed up with the Wilton Historical Society to celebrate the contributions of Connecticut artists from all disciplines with our scholarly lecture series, "Connecticut Creativity." Also of note, our popular virtual music discussion series "From Bach to Brubeck," featuring musicologist Gil Harel and famed composer and musician Chris Brubeck, son of Dave Brubeck. Another huge success: our Hot & Cool Jazz special virtual concert broadcast featuring jazz pianist Taylor Eigsti and Chris Brubeck.

Welcoming The Brubeck Collection

This year Wilton Library was immensely proud and honored to welcome The Brubeck Collection, one of the preeminent jazz archives in the world, into its new home in our specially designed and constructed archival space. The majority of construction took place under strict protocols during the pandemic, while the building was closed to the public. The Collection arrived in Wilton in June 2021. During the next few months, the materials were transferred to Wilton Library, where they are now housed in our new archival space.

The Brubeck Collection was established by late jazz legend Dave Brubeck and his wife, Iola, as a "living archive" to Dave's long and illustrious career as a celebrated musician and composer. It is a treasure trove of thousands of music-related materials, passing on Dave's legacy to future musicians, musicologists, researchers, historians, jazz aficionados, and the public. The Brubeck Collection is a special and important addition to the Wilton community, a unique source of inspiration that will continue to draw interest from around the world.

Connecting with Children and Teens with Wilton Library's team winning the Fairfield County Libraries Chess Tournament! Several programs featured STEAM learning, including coding and robotics, offering children the opportunity to broaden their horizons in the areas of science, technology, engineering, arts, and math.

Popular programs attended by teens and tweens included an iPhone photography workshop, a Poetry in Motion virtual reunion and performance event, crafting and baking sessions, college planning programs, and more. Wilton Library's teen robotics team, Singularity Technology, persevered through a challenging virtual robotics season, working diligently to build their complex robot while social distancing. Team members are eagerly looking forward to next year's challenge.

With inviting spaces dedicated to encourage a lifelong love of reading, learning, and discovery, the Children's Library and Teen Services department enthusiastically continued the tradition of engaging and connecting younger members of the community. Children participated in a wide variety of virtual and in-person activities and programs, including story times with Wilton police officers and firefighters, our popular summer reading program, arts and crafts, dancing, music, and virtual chess,

"I came across this quote (by David Lankes) and it reminds me of what Wilton Library does for our town: "Bad libraries build collections, good libraries build services, great libraries build communities."

Wilton Library teamed up with our valued community partners to open doors to new knowledge and experiences – such as meeting award-winning authors, learning more about Bach and Brubeck, sharing poetry, knitting, baking, and much more. 125th Anniversary Gala

Wilton Library was thrilled to (finally) host its 125th Anniversary Gala on Saturday, November 14, 2020. The special celebration, originally scheduled for March 28, 2020, was postponed twice due to the Coronavirus pandemic. Because a large community gathering was not possible, the gala was re-envisioned as a full virtual event.

The gala was an enormous success - a memorable evening featuring a special concert by jazz pianist Taylor Eigsti and Chris Brubeck recorded at the Brubeck family home in Wilton, virtual toasts and a lively online auction. The event honored Jennifer and Claude Amadeo for their exceptional contributions to the library's STEAM programs for children and teens, and Catherine Romer for her loyal contributions to the library's Hot & Cool Jazz series for more than a dozen years. Nick Davatzes was also honored with a surprise Endowment Philanthropy Leadership Award, recognizing his steadfast leadership and dedication toward building the Wilton Library Endowment Fund.

All proceeds from the event support library resources, programs, and services. We sincerely thank all of our sponsors and advertisers who made our 125th Anniversary Gala possible.
